

Conversations on Fire in the Southwestern United States

Join us for three presentations followed by small group conversations about actions to advance wildfire prevention and recovery in the Southwestern United States

Register Here:

Virtual Event:

September 4, 2024 10:00 - 11:30 MT

Advances in Post-Fire Recovery: New Mexico Reforestation Center

Matt Hurteau, University of New Mexico

Keepers of the Flame: Cultural Fire as a Climate Adaptation

Beth Rose Middleton and Landin Noland, University of California at Davis

Supporting Wildland Resources in the Great Basin

Melvin Hunter, Forestry & Wildland Fire Management Director at Hualapai Tribe and Asst. Fire Manager Officer at BIA

The Southwest Climate Hub, Southwest and South Central Climate Adaptation Science Centers, and Climate Assessment for the Southwest are co-hosting biannual webinars designed to share and discuss climate solutions.

For more information, please contact:
Lauren Kramer, lauren.kramer@usda.gov

Southwest Climate Adaptation Science Center

United States Department of Agriculture
Southwest Climate Hub